

King's Landing

ShareThis [1]

April 26
Sunday

King's Landing is a small park that QOC hasn't used in a number of years, so welcome back. Our course setter (Ted Good) has managed to squeeze in a red course, and because there is no blue course, there will be an option for everyone to run the yellow course (at no extra charge) for fun as a sprint course. So for those looking for a little more orienteering, run a normal course first then try the sprint course!

Many of the hill sides in this park are quite steep, so keep that in mind when selecting a course. The brown course will have to climb/descend several steep hillsides in the far part of the map. There will also be a beige course which is a little shorter but is an option to avoid the worst climb. If it has rained recently then the steep hillsides will be quite slippery.

Other course comments:

- Brown/Green/Red courses will cross the major marsh to the far side of the map. You will get wet and muddy, and without paying $60+ Muddy Buddy entry fees either! How muddy will depend on how much recent rain there has been.
- On Green and Red, on the way to control 2, there is a bridge along the route. The bridge is unsafe and is closed. Do not take the bridge. You can run next to it.
- Note that Brown/Green/Red are at 1:7500 scale and the map fits on one sheet.
- The "On Top" clue symbol has been used for several reentrant controls to show that the control is actually above the reentrant. The controls are hung above the reentrant so you won't have to climb down into them.
- Map scale will be either 1:5000 or 1:7500, on letter size paper. Contour interval is 10ft.

Any youth or large groups attending, please contact the Meet Director [2] so that we can coordinate pre-registration for your group; the group registration and waiver form [3] is part of the information on
