

Membership Types

QOC has two membership types, Individual and Family. Each is explained below, but feel free to contact us [1] with membership questions. Printed member sign-in sheets used at events will generally reflect all recorded changes to the member database within a week.

In addition to receiving discounted entry fees at most QOC events, members are eligible for benefits including travel grants (from the QOC Aid Fund [2]). All members are strongly encouraged to volunteer at a QOC event at least once per season.

Individual Membership

For an annual fee of $25 an individual may join QOC; memberships are for 1 year, starting the day you join. Membership benefits at events, such as reduced event fees, apply to the individual when that person participates on their own in a QOC event. Head to our Member Portal [3] to join or renew.

Family Membership

Annual fee $35; memberships are for 1 year, starting the day you join. A family is defined as a group of one or more persons, related by blood, marriage or function of law residing in the same household. Family memberships shall consist of at most two responsible adult contacts and all dependent children residing in the same household. Head to our Member Portal [3] to join or renew.

Text Messaging Policy

QOC may text members and event participants regarding QOC memberships and events. Text messaging is a supplemental means of communication rather than a primary communication tool, and except for emergency communications, only those individuals who have opted-in will receive text messages from us. QOC does not share text/contact data with unaffiliated third parties, and anyone may opt out of receiving text at any time by contacting us. ShareThis [4]
